

Shawn Gallant is the Director of Community Development for Honor Flight Columbus, where he builds community partnerships that support the organization’s mission and the veterans it serves. Shawn has been involved with Honor Flight since 2019, serving as a guardian on three missions before taking on his current role in 2026.